PREFACE

Besides the [illegible] Section, several new Sections have been added. Books on Geography, Maps and Atlases, which were scattered throughout the History Section, have now been collected to constitute Sections of their own. In the Section of Indian History, separate Sub-sections have been allotted for "History of the Mahrattas," "History of the Sikhs," "Indian Mutiny of 1858," "Native States," etc.

"Parliamentary Papers or Blue Books," consisting of 300 bound volumes, and containing about 1,200 pamphlets, have been separately indexed and included in this Catalogue. Since the publication of the first Subject Catalogue (1912), the number of books in the Library has considerably increased. Names of about 14,000 new books have been added in this new Catalogue.

In May, 1919, Mr. E. A. Radford, the then Secretary, brought out an Authors' Catalogue. It was also his idea to publish a revised edition of the first Subject Catalogue. Through his efforts and through the efforts of my predecessors, Prof. Amar Nath Jha, M.A., Rai A. C. Mukerji Bahadur, M.A., and Dr. H. N. Randle, M.A., D. Phil., it has been possible for me to place before the public the new Subject Catalogue, and I must gratefully acknowledge my indebtedness to them.

Mr. H. K. Ghosh, the Managing Proprietor of "The Indian Press, Ltd." has laid me under deep obligation by considerably reducing the printing charges, and by taking great interest and personal care in the printing of the Catalogue. It gives me great pleasure to offer my thanks to him.

I have also to express my warm thanks to Mr. A. K. Seyne, the Assistant Librarian of this Library, to whom the entire work of preparing the Subject Catalogue was entrusted. To him goes the credit of devising many improvements which may be noticed in the new Catalogue. He showed rare devotion to duty, and he ungrudgingly spent many of his leisure hours and holidays in the preparation of this voluminous Catalogue.

A. C. BANERJI,

Hony. Secretary.

EXPLANATION OF THE CLASSIFICATION.

This Catalogue has been prepared on the basis of Dewey Decimal System. This divides the whole field of knowledge into ten main classes, from 0 to 9, the symbol 0 being always reserved for general works. These main classes are in turn subdivided each into ten divisions, and so on, according to the decimal notation, so long as the nature of the material may require it. The smaller subdivisions are placed behind a decimal point. The ten main classes are :—

000	GENERAL WORKS.
100	PHILOSOPHY	A
200	RELIGION	B
300	SOCIOLOGY	C.
400	PHILOLOGY	D
500	NATURAL SCIENCE	E.
600	USEFUL ARTS	F.
700	FINE ARTS	G.
800	LITERATURE	H
900	HISTORY	K

Except 000, classes 100 to 900 have been varied by using the letters of the alphabet (A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, and K)

2. In each section, the authors' names have been arranged alphabetically, though at the end of many sections, it will be found that this order has not been maintained. It is due to the arrival of many new books after the Ms. had been submitted to the Press. Even while passing the final proofs, many new additions have been made in the Catalogue Many of the old books which could not be traced at the time of preparing the Catalogue, were found later on; they have been, consequently, added at the end of the respective sections The readers are warned not to be misled by the alphabetical arrangement of the authors' names.
